IS ON THE GAINStartling Figures on Death by Tuberculosis.

Return in England and Wales—Is Great Alarm—Seeking For a Cure.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A London cable to the Sun says: The address of Dr. William Broadbent, president of the Society for the Prevention of Consumption, contains the following startling statistics:

"We learn from the returns of the Registrar-General that nearly 60,000 deaths are every year registered as due to tuberculosis in England and Wales alone, and to this number may be added a considerable percentage of the deaths set down to acute affections of the lungs, in which tubercle has played an unrecognized part. Of these over 40,000 are from consumption, 6000 from tubercular meningitis.

"The destructive work of tuberculosis does not end here; 5400 deaths are attributed to other forms of tuberculosis, among which are diseases of the bones, humpback, hip-joint disease, disease of the knee, ankle, elbow, wrist and other joints which cripple or disable so many children are the sign manual of the tubercle."

The society has decided to investigate the report of a new cure which has come from St. Petersburg. Dr. Lovsky has been making experiments with natrium cinnaumylicum, for which he announces wonderful results. At a meeting of the Russian Society of Medicine Dr. Lovsky recently gave particulars of five cases upon which he had produced visible effects by injections of natrium cinnaumylicum.

SAVE THE MINAH.

A Citizen of Olaa Writes of the Lively Bird.

Editor P. C. A.—In a recent issue of your paper I notice a paragraph in behalf of the mynah it being stated as the opinion of the Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, Mr. Clarke, that this bird is of immense value to Hawaiian agriculture. May I beg space for a few words confirmatory of Mr. Clarke's opinion. Since my stay in Hawaii I have had excellent opportunities to observe the habits of the mynah in the coffee districts of Olaa, in Hilo and in the adjoining sugar plantations, and I feel sure that the benefits conferred by the mynah far outweigh the injury it does. The mynah prefers an open country to forest and settled districts to the wilderness. It is therefore exceedingly abundant on the sugar plantations and in all pasture lands. If anyone doubts the value of the mynah in such localities he has but to shoot a few and examine the stomachs. These will be found crammed with insects, most of which are positively injurious to the farmer and the cane grower.

On the other hand the orchardist and the small fruit grower have room to dislike the mynah for while they profit by the war it wages upon insect pests they lose by its fondness for fruits, especially figs. So too there seems to be just ground for complaint against the mynah in Olaa where it is generally believed, probably not without good reason, that the mynahs carry into the coffee patches the seeds of Hilo grass and of other weeds. The birds thus prove a serious nuisance since they add materially to the annual cost of weeding.

The course that naturally suggests itself is to kill the birds where they do injury and preserve them where they are beneficial. In this connection I may state that the dead bodies of two or three mynahs hung in a fig tree have a wonderful effect in destroying the appetite for figs of their sorrowing relatives. The mynah is a "knowing cuss," as Artemas Ward called the crow, and is quick to read an object lesson.

In conclusion like every other bird in its relation to agriculture the mynah has good and bad traits, but I believe with Mr. Clarke that when everything is summed up the balance will be found to be largely in the bird's favor and that, now it has been introduced into these Islands it should be preserved.

The selection of birds for introduction into these Islands is a matter that should receive the most careful attention, and no species should be allowed to be imported that has not been sanctioned by authority.

Already several species have been introduced that should have been most carefully excluded.

Here an ounce of prevention is worth an unlimited number of pounds of cure.

ANOTHER THORN.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—Official circles here are warmly discussing the attitude of Great Britain owing to her pressing demand that Spain sell her a coaling station in the Balearic Islands and other strategic points, so as to render Gibraltar unassailable. The negotiations on the subject have been in abeyance owing to Premier Sagasta's illness, but it is believed that Spain, resisted by Russia and France, will fulfill the demand of Great Britain.

REPROVING CONSULS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The recalling of E. Spencer Pratt, Consul at Singapore, is the first case of disciplining for too great ardor in service during the war. Pratt was one of the most active of the Consuls who took part in the preliminary negotiations with Aguinaldo which led to the insurgents being given such prominence in the campaign. The State Department believes that Pratt went too far and that, as indicated by letters in the possession of Aguinaldo, unwarranted promises made at that time are now proving complicating.

The State Department is considering the same action in the cases of Williams, Consul at Hongkong, and Williams, Consul at Manila. Williams, as shown by letters made public today, did much to give Aguinaldo so much importance, and, without doubt, led the insurgents to believe there would be full freedom and independence granted them. His recall is expected soon.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Pumps, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 30 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.
